To whom it may concern,

I have known Steve Flecker for over a dozen years and about 4 years ago Steve introduced me to a new product that he was promoting. The product, Enviro-Save, was introduced to me as a one-time permanent metal treatment that could potentially double the life of the engine. I was intrigued about the product, but honestly, anyone who knows me will tell you that I am one of the most skeptical people that they have ever known, I am a very hard sale. However, having known Steve for so many years and knowing the quality of his character, I felt comfortable trying the product out on one piece of equipment, a 1996 John Deere TC 62H loader. This loader had approximately 12,000 hours and had been consuming at least 1-2 gallons of oil per week. After implementing the Enviro-Save Metal Treatment the loader impressively stop burning oil and the increased power was significant. Today, 4 years later, we still have the loader, it has near 18,000 hours and we have never had to add oil to the engine, the loader has had no loss of power and we have had no hydraulic or transmission problems. I have also bought the treatment for 5 other pieces of equipment that I own. The treatment also went into my pickup 4 years ago, I have almost 170,000 miles on the truck, I went from averaging 14.6/mpg to 15.9/mpg with no oil consumption. The truck runs perfect!

This past year I added Enviro-Save to a used grinder we bought. The engine on this grinder is massive, Caterpillar with over 1100hp. It was consuming over 4 gallons of oil in a week's time and using over 36 gallons of diesel fuel per hour. After the treatment, oil consumption was cut in half and gallons per hour went to 23. Now that's impressive.

I am not sure exactly how the product works, I just know that it has worked for my company and has saved us quite a bit of money. In closing, as detailed above, based on my experience working with the product, I can unreservedly recommend the product to you for any vehicle, truck or equipment that you may own.
